Description
We need a general purpose XQuery tokenizer that can be used by the various back-end wrapper implementations to factor out common query processing needs. Best if this was available in multiple languages or is somehow cross-platform. Who: Bing, Jing Target date: May 26

Because XQuery will be implemented (if at all) at a later date, this bug is no longer applicable. See bug # 1056 for further details.
