Description

when you choose save from the file menu, you are shown a dialog with two check boxes, save locally and save to network. The text needs to be rewritten to say: "Please choose where you would like to save the data package." The font of that text needs to be changed to match the rest of the system font. for some reason, it is currently being displayed in courier.

When a package already exists in one or both of these locations and you are simply resaving, the package is already in one or more of those locations so the check boxes should be checked appropriately. right now, they are both unchecked when the dialog opens.

Text changed as indicated. Current location is marked with checked and disabled text boxes. Font changed to match other dialogs.
