Description if you have an unsaved package open and you close the window, morpho asks you if you'd like to save the package. if you click yes, it saves the package but forgets that your original request was to close the window and leaves it open.

History

#1 - 04/04/2004 01:15 PM - Dan Higgins

changes made to avoid always redisplaying a package after a save. This removes the problem indicated in error description.

#2 - 11/18/2004 04:47 PM - Andrea Andrea

It appears this big still exists - the same behavior originally described is still happening.

#3 - 05/06/2010 11:41 AM - ben leinfelder

still happening in 1.8.0
