Description

When you go to "Set Preferences…" under the File menu, and change the "Look and Feel" and click "Set", the appearance of the menus doesn't change. The preferences are changed for boxes you subsequently open in Morpho (e.g. New Data Package, Open, Search, New Profile, etc.), but the menus remain unchanged unless you close Morpho and re-open it.

most of the java UI's i've seen that allow you to change the look & feel also require a restart to make the changes. Maybe a good short term solution to clear up any confusion is to add the note (requires restart) under the option in the preferences dialog?
