Description

when you try to load plots or do other certified-only activities, the system says:

"The page you tried to access requires a higher level of certification.

Please login to your VegBank account.

Certified and professional users increase their ability to use VegBank more effectively.

Thank you,

help@vegbank.org

Login to VegBank:

[log-in form]

This is wrong if the user is logged in, we shouldn't prompt them to log in again, but instead ask them to request certification.
