Description

The first thing people do when using Morpho is create a profile. This last release of Morpho 1.6.1 has problems displaying part of the directions for the network account part of the profile. The text describing how to go to the KNB to create an account is partially cut off both on the Mac version and the Ubuntu version. I still need to test the new version of Windows called Vista.

Ben has made some changes to fix this problem. He plans to commit them. Then I will test them.
