Description

When the metadata wizard completes, the last page is a message that says one can either 'Finish', or import a data table directly. The link text is: 'or click here to finish this wizard and add a new data table now'. Clicking the link brings up the Assessment data import wizard, but this is premature because the user has not yet parsed an assessment to get the questions. Maybe we should just delete this link from the final wizard page?

Reassigned to Ben because I believe he's the one that's developed this particular portion of the code.

#2 - 05/30/2008 12:25 PM - ben leinfelder

modified the text to direct them to the "Parse Assessment..." option.
also removed the link to launch the data import step
