Description
If EquallySpacedColumns is set to No, then we go to LabelDataColumns and label some questions, then hit previous to get back to CheckForEquallySpacedColumns, all question assignments are cleared. This probably happens in setWizardData; it should probably only happen when the state of the Yes button is changed to Yes.

This has been fixed by clearing of column assignments for the current field only when the state of the Yes button is changed to be selected.
