Description
The "Save..." action is specified in the configured plugin, but the save on close command is hard coded into the framework.

History

#1 - 07/01/2008 11:59 AM - ben leinfelder

Added an interface that the save command should implement (no methods). The save on close action uses this implementation (if found). Now there is no EML-specific close on save action being coded into the framework.
