Description
Multiple times the testing students were still confused as to how to launch the parser if they didn't do it from the dialog box. Perhaps the fact that the menu is titled "Data" confuses them, I don't know, but they certainly seemed confused.

I was thinking about moving it into the "Documentation" Menu as the first line (replacing the "Add/Edit Documentation" option since that launches into the tree editor where we don't want anyone to be).

I'll go ahead and do this
