Description

You can mark items as "reportable" from the workflow canvas - they then show up in the list "items of interest" but you cannot remove them once they are marked as reportable.
Also: marking the same item (port) adds a duplicate entry to the list of Items of interest. If the entry already exist, it should not be added again.

History

leave out of 2a1 - not needed if we use Outline view for the designer

#2 - 06/23/2009 10:54 AM - debi staggs

This bug is being closed because we are switching to using the outline view of the workflow for adding dynamic report items, instead of having them in a separate list.
