Can now specify a header image in the ReportLayout (cascades into the rendered version, too).
Not yet a way to specify that in the Designer panel.

We can insert the static image into a report, get a thumbnail image from the file system, and get the path to that image. Just have to get it inserted into the report model, and we can close this bug.

this seems to be in the model when i render it - is it "done"?
