Description

I have some visitors today and would like to show off the devel version of Kepler.

When I start kepler, the page that comes up (configs/kepler/doc-index.htm)
has links for the Hello World and R demos. However, these links do not work?

For example:

java.io.FileNotFoundException: /Users/cxh/src/kepler/common/demos/getting-started/04-HelloWorld.xml (No such file or directory)
at java.io.FileInputStream.open(Native Method)

The common/demos directory is empty?

History

most demos are now in the 'outreach' module (outreach/resources/demos/getting-started, for example)
the R demos are in the 'r' module

Would be nice to package demos in a KAR file (named demos.kar perhaps) and include them in the kar folder of their respective modules.

I added instructions on how to get the outreach module and changed the demo links to point to the demos in the outreach module.
This might cause issues with the installer, which could possible expect the demos to appear in the old location.
