Description

Morpho editor launches in a window that is minimized by default to approximately 15-20cm square. While minimized there is not enough room to display all the instructions. As a consequence, the instructions are truncated. Maximizing the window helps, but even at full size the instructions may be truncated. This is especially true in the geographicCov node. I put a screenshot of the problem at http://www.lter.uaf.edu/temp/morpho_instructions_truncat.gif

History
