Description

Currently Metacat relies on a number of external projects and repositories. We should take this opportunity to finalize many of those projects as true "releases" and do away with the "release candidate" tags that Metacat is using to build.

External SVN project dependencies include:

- eml schema 2.1.1 (tags/RELEASE_EML_2_1_1_RC_2)
- eml style sheets (tags/RELEASE_EML_UTILS_1_0_0_RC13)
- utilities (tags/UTILITIES_1_1_0_RC2)
- seek (tags/ECOGRID_1_2_2_RC4)

Not to forget the d1 jars:

- DataONE v1.0.0 jars (2 API jars + supporting libraries)

Looks good to me.

#3 - 12/12/2011 01:49 PM - ben leinfelder

okay, that's simple enough to have agreed on!

#4 - 12/13/2011 03:09 PM - ben leinfelder

there is an Ecogrid change needed

#5 - 01/10/2012 09:21 AM - ben leinfelder

updating the title to reflect bug as a reminder to remove "RC" from any of the tags we build the release from...

#6 - 01/17/2012 01:49 PM - ben leinfelder

I've merged the Ecogrid RC5 changes to trunk and now am using RC6 that was made from trunk (make sense?). Should be fine in SEEK/Ecogrid now.

Utilities is now pulling from the final tag.

EML has a schema and a style tag -- those are still at RC level.

#8 - 01/18/2012 11:06 AM - ben leinfelder

I've updated all the tags that Metacat uses during its build process.
