Description
When user first time logins, the sanpark skin will show a welcome message, upload data link and search form.
However, if user logouts then logins again, the page only shows a search form, no welcome message and upload data link.

It turns out, the html page showing after logout used a wrong js function for login.

After modifying the sanparksLogin.xsl (using submitLoginFormIntoDivAndReload function), it works.
