Write sensor-view module documentation.

These modules have no [moduleName]/docs/ documentation for access within Kepler:

sensor-view
runtime-monitor
workflow-scheduler-gui

There is no plotting module -- classes are spread across sensor-view and runtime-monitor. Moving them all to sensor-view or into a new plotting module seems preferable.

We also need to consider where and how to place/link documentation for the larger "kepler sensor platform" -- i.e. the big picture, and the server and field components.

#2 - 05/10/2012 03:08 PM - Derik Barseghian

Added new bug for moving plotting classes: bug#5606

As discussed I put a minimal amount of time into creating sensor view documentation. I think it's pretty decent. If anyone wants to improve it, feel free, and let me know:

Otherwise I'll close this bug after a bit of time has passed.
