They are supposed to collapse the section but the default event behavior of navigating to #none is never stopped so the user is redirected to the default view, #data.

History

#1 - 04/08/2015 04:17 PM - Lauren Walker

- Project changed from MetacatUI to Metacat
- Status changed from New to Resolved
- Target version changed from 1.6.7 to 2.5.0

I took out the #none href attribute from the HTML so that the browser will not try to navigate anywhere.
